The graphs illustrate the value z scores for different climate indices over the years from 1995 to 2020. The indices include PCAMO, PCAO, PC_ENSO, and PCIOD. The graphs show the trendlines and data points for each index, with red lines representing the index values and blue lines representing the PC values. The y-axis represents the value z score, while the x-axis represents the years.