1. Thanks for the suggestion of merging Section 4 and Section 5. Currently, Section 4 focuses on the intercomparisons of this study with all other studies published in literatures. It is a kind of validation but we prefer not to using the word "validation" and using "comparison" instead, as those numbers are neither observations nor having been validated to be the truth. Section 5 focuses on discussing the uncertainties and limitations of our results associated with input data such as land cover, soil texture, meteorological forcing, and model calibrations and validations. After reconsideration we feel keeping them separately makes the paper easy to read.

2. The erroes in the figure captions have been corrected.
