1. Symbol Q was added in the place when streamflow was first used. 2. The sentence was revised to make it clear. 3. Reference added. 4. Revised. 5. The comparisons and Figure 15 in this study are at basin level. The study of Fernandes et al. (2007) was at site level - it only focused on the climate stations sites. Further, Fernandes et al. (2007) also used the EALCO model, the same as this study. So the results are not fully independent for rigorous comparison.
