

The paper is well written and well organized. The origin, evolution and hydrometeorological causes of the 2013 flood are described precisely, rigorously and carefully. The comparison with characteristics of past floods is very relevant. Facts are well presented and interpreted. All figures and tables contribute to the legibility of the text. This paper is complete and very interesting. I have no further comment or suggestion to make.