

To the editor(s)

We have now completed and uploaded the revised version of our manuscript "Morphological dynamics of an englacial channel". The manuscript is revised and rewritten based on input from the three reviewers and according to our response to the reviewers in October last year. As the revised manuscript more or less completely rewritten, we find it of little use to include a marked up version of the new manuscript to highlight changes. If the editor's feels such a document is needed please contact us, and we will provide such a document.

On behalf of the authors

Geir Vatne

Associate Professor

Departmentg of Geography

Norwegian University of science and technology