

Interactive comment on “Interannual variability of winter precipitation in the European Alps: relations with the North Atlantic Oscillation” by E. Bartolini et al.

E. Bartolini et al.

Received and published: 19 November 2008

We would like to thank Dr. Alberto Montanari , the editor, and the reviewers for their thoughtful comments on our work and for the positive opinion they stated. In the revised paper we addressed the main concerns of the reviewers, especially with regard to the reliability of spatial interpolated data at high altitudes. This topic is also extensively discussed in the reply to Dr. Peter Molnar.
