

Interactive comment on “A stochastic design rainfall generator based on copulas and mass curves” by S. Vandenberghe et al.

R. Mantilla

ricardo-mantilla@uiowa.edu

Received and published: 22 June 2010

It would be useful if the authors mentioned in their abstract that the stochastic model is based on point-based rainfall rather than spatially distributed data. Although the importance of the problem tackled here is clear, stochastic models need to be clearly separated for the benefit of the community.

---

Interactive comment on Hydrol. Earth Syst. Sci. Discuss., 7, 3613, 2010.