We have received three excellent reviews for this interesting manuscript. Based on these reviews I conclude that major revisions are required before potential publication in HESS. Reviewer #2 raises the issue whether there the amount of new material/analyses motivates a new paper as some of the presented material already has been presented previously. This obviously is an issue the authors need to discuss. Most of the other comments are related to the need for clarifications and additional information as well as to better relating to previous work. The reviewer comments will all
