Dear anonymous reviewer,

thanks a lot for your productive criticism. You are right with your comments and I just would like to add, that we are working on a socio-hydrologic frame of our paper since the first review focus on similar aspects. It is quite difficult to find reliable data for the country of Myanmar, however, we’re going to write a new version of the text in which we try to match the real-world data to the socio-hydrologic concept.
