

I am pleased to see the revised manuscript has addressed most questions that I have raised for the previous version.

One point is still need to be discussed. In section 4.3, the uncertainty from the calculation of WF, especially for the grey WF, should be mentioned, since the estimation of the grey WF only consider nitrogen contamination, but ignore many other important factors, such as pesticides and other fertilizers.