

I have made all the minor editorial corrections suggested in the final review. Please convey my thanks to the reviewer for their careful reading and noting of these errors.

I have decided not to include the discussion of 2D models suggested by the reviewer. Firstly, I do not think it would not significantly alter the basic ideas presented for 1D models. The citations suggested are not significantly different in their methods than some of the 1D methods discussed. Secondly, I have extensive experience in 2D modeling and I felt that to digress into it would naturally end up citing my own work and it would have the appearance of trying to increase my own citation count.

The reviewer also suggested creating some larger multi-frame figures out the the present figure set. I generally prefer single frame figures -- however, if the editors or typesetters would prefer multi-frame I am willing to make the change.
