We thank Dr. Moya Quiroga for the positive comments about our opinion paper and for providing useful and constructive comments that can help enrich our commentary. We will consider all these aspects during the revision process.

We also thank Dr. Moya Quiroga for suggesting a number of references. Many of them are very relevant. For example, the points made about: i) the vicious cycle with the Tokyo example (Matsuda, 2013), and ii) the comparison of changes in flood risk and economic growth (Winsemius et al, 2015) are definitely in line with our opinion piece.
