

Dear Authors,

Thank you for addressing the various comments and concerns raised by the referees. I think that due to the different perspectives added by the referees and your open discussion of these perspectives in the manuscript, the paper will be a very interesting and valuable addition to the scientific literature. I have not found an acknowledgement section. Given all the helpful and constructive comments submitted by the referees, I think it would be fair to acknowledge their input. You might also like to acknowledge your funding sources, so I am marking this as "accept subject to technical corrections" in order to give you the opportunity to do so.

Best regards,
Stan

Dear Stan Schymanski,

We agree that due the reviewers comments the manuscript improved substantially and added extra perspective to this study. We have now included an acknowledgement section where we thank the reviewers for their input and where we also acknowledge my funding sources.

Best regards,

Imme Benedict, on behalf of all co-authors
