

Interactive comment on “A stochastic model for drought risk analysis in The Netherlands” by Ferdinand L. M. Diermanse et al.

Ferdinand L. M. Diermanse et al.

ferdinand.diermanse@deltares.nl

Received and published: 9 April 2018

Dear Francesco

Indeed, the Pearson correlation coefficient depends on the marginals. That is exactly the reason why we chose to plot the rank coefficient in Figure 7 instead of Pearson's correlation coefficient. The correlations in Figure 7 are therefore not influenced by the marginals; differences in Figure 7 can thus be attributed to the temporal correlation.

Best regards Ferdinand

Interactive comment on Hydrol. Earth Syst. Sci. Discuss., <https://doi.org/10.5194/hess-2018-45>, 2018.

C1