Dear Authors, Thank you for your submission to HESS and to this special issue. Unfortunately the reviewer comments indicate that the paper is not suitable for publication at this time, but they have given some advice on how to strengthen the study and improve the manuscript. Although this is beyond the scope of major revisions for this issue, I would encourage you to take up this advice for a potential future re-submission. The HESS editorial staff will now close the discussion and they ask that you please withdraw the paper after the discussion has been closed. Again, thank you and best wishes as you continue this work.
