This is the second time I have reviewed this manuscript, and I find the authors did a very good job in addressing my comments and concerns. I did find some minor typos, and incorrect equation references which I highlighted on the pdf. I think the paper nicely illustrates how modeling approaches and isotopic analysis can complement water balance calculations for lakes. Nice job.

Thank you very much for your thoughtful and supportive review. We appreciate you taking the time to review our manuscript again. As suggested, we have carefully revised the manuscript to correct minor grammatical errors and typos and have improved sentence clarity where needed.
